

Media Release
Saturday, 8 March 2014

NOYED-Ghana and International Women's Day set to inspire change

Women across Ghana, with the support of Net Organisation For Youth Empowerment and Development (NOYED-Ghana) will stand tall and proud today, ready to inspire change as part of the 2014 celebrations for International Women's Day (IWD).

NOYED-Ghana is proud to support this year's IWD theme, declared by the United Nations as Inspiring Change and, through its programs, continues to strongly encourage advocacy for women's advancement in every community, for every woman, in every way.

Everyone can be an advocate for positive change and sustainable women's development and NOYED-Ghana calls on men, women and children to challenge the status quo for women's equality in Ghana.

Happy International Women's Day!!!